Mosquito Control Plan Gains State-Wide Support

A state-wide move to form an over-all mosquito control organization for Florida was going forward this week under the direction of County Commission Chairman Paul Rardin.

The plan to organize mosquito and sandfly control on a state-wide basis was presented two weeks ago by Chairman Rardin. Shortly after the plan was disclosed, several other state officials recommended state-wide control.

Rardin advised members of the Palm Beach County Commission this week that copies of the board's resolution of two weeks ago, supporting the state-wide bureau, will be sent to all county commissions in state in the hope that support from across Florida can be gained for the idea.

Meantime, the St. Lucie Board of Commissioners supported Rardin's move by adopting a resolution calling for state-wide control. The resolution was received by the county board this week and made a part of its minutes.

Other developments reported by Rardin included plans to take the idea to the State Association of County Commissioners and if approved by that organization, to present it to the members of the State legislature.

"It's very possible that something might come from our efforts here," Rardin told his colleagues on the county board in reporting the progress of his plan.

The county board this week, among other items, received a letter from the Town Council of South Bay, in which Rardin was commended for his work in aiding the Glades community in working out its administrative problems. Enclosed in the letter was a county check for $232.50 which the council said "was being returned in view of the assistance already given the municipality by Rardin and other members of the county board. The check was South Bay's share of the county's road and bridge fund.

The board also received a letter of appreciation from Willard Smith of Pahokee, who was honored by the board two weeks ago when a county road was named after him. The Glades resident, a former county commissioner and a former member to the state road department, told the commission that he was deeply grateful for the recognition that had been accorded him.

Other actions by the commission included: Decision to purchase some 60 American flags to be flown at all the polling places in the county on election days.

Adoption of a resolution to add nine new voting precincts, bringing the county total to 58 precincts. Rardin said there would be no changes in any of the voting precincts in the Everglades.

Granted permission to the Florida Power and Light Company to lay a new 13,000 volt cable from Riviera Beach to Palm Beach Shores through county property.

Approved three new subdivisions, two at Delray Beach and a third at West Palm Beach.

Approved a leave of absence for Ivory Davis, county nurse in the Appointment of Paul Rardin, chairman of the Palm Beach County Commission, to a post in the National Association of County Officials was announced this week by Keith L. Seegmiller, secretary of the national group. Seegmiller said Rardin had been named to NACO's Board of Consultants for 1951-52, representing the State of Florida. The appointment was made by M. Ward Forman, Springfield, Ala., president of the national organization.

As a member of the board, Rardin will help plan NACO policies and is scheduled to attend a mid-year meeting of the group to be held in Chicago probably in December or January.

Miss Jean Kurtz of Jacksonville is the house guest this week of Miss Clarice Nason in Pahokee.

Schools Are Ready To Open In Pahokee

Pahokee Schools are in readiness for the opening on Sept. 4, according to Principal Clyde A. Canipe, who reports the appointment of Mrs. Able Walcott last week as high school commercial studies instructor completes the teaching staffs at both the high school and elementary schools. Mrs. Walcott formerly taught at West Palm Beach and Seacrest schools.

Four other new teachers have joined the Pahokee High School faculty this year. They are W. A. Kendrick of Centerville (Florida State University), head football coach and director of boys' physical education; Miss Barbara Hendry of Belle Glade (Florida State University), English instructor; Marvin Thompson of Palmetto (University of Florida), instructor of Spanish and English, and Bob Shaw of Ellerbe, N. C., instructor of Latin and mathematics.

School buses will start their scheduled runs starting at 7 a. m., Tuesday, Sept. 4, to pick up the children and take them to the school for registration which will start at 8:45 a. m. Children in grades one through six in the elementary school will go to their respective rooms for registration. Following registration the children are free to return to their homes, the buses scheduled to make the return runs on Tuesday around 11 a. m.

There will be two sections in each grade of the elementary school, first through the sixth, with the exception of the second grade which will have three sections or school rooms this year. Mrs. Kathryn Cunningham, former first grade teacher, will teach the newly added third section of the second grade.

Books will be distributed and lessons assigned on Wednesday, Sept. 5, the start of full time school days, with buses operating on their regular morning and afternoon schedules.

Local School Will Open Doors Sept. 4

The Canal Point school will open its doors for the fall school term Tuesday with five new teachers on the teaching staff, according to Claude Williams, principal.

The eighth grade has been added to the school this year making it a junior high. One of the new features of the school this year will be a school library. Miss Eula Mae Snyder, who is a new teacher from Dade County, is in charge of the library project.

Members of the teaching staff according to grades are: Mrs. Alma Burr, coming to the school from Okeechobee, first grade; Miss Snyder, second grade; Mrs. Lorraine Olwill, of West Palm Beach, third grade; Mrs. Billie Huddle, fourth grade; Robert Crandall, West Palm Beach, fifth grade; Mrs. Vivian Mercer, sixth grade, and Williams, principal.

An eighth grade teacher will be named before the opening of the school.

Ladies Night For Canal Point Lions

Canal Point Lions at their weekly dinner meeting Monday evening announced plans for a special ladies night program to be held in the County Park community building on Monday evening, Sept. 17. Teachers of the Canal Point School will be dinner guests of the club on that night and a reception will be held in their honor. Alton Jones was named chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the reception and ladies night program.

President Floyd Erickson called upon chairman of standing committees for reports of club activities during the past month. The group voted to dispense with a formal meeting next week, since the regular meeting date falls on Labor Day.

Chances Are Slim For PHS Grid Team

Coach W. A. Kendrick and his assistant, Bill Howard, have been sweating it out with a small squad of Pahokee Blue Devil football players in a preschool training program that started on Laif Field Aug. 13.

Kendrick, who replaces Jim Maynor and comes to Pahokee from Florida State University where he was a football star and a three-letter man in athletics is somewhat disappointed with the small number of boys taking part in the preschool training program, there being an average of only 17 reporting for daily morning and afternoon practice sessions. This number is expected to increase to at least 25 when school opens next week but will still be far short of the reserve strength Kendrick needs to build a strong team.

Pahokee's new coach is building his team around five lettermen, the most experienced of whom are backfield men Carney Wilder, Bobby Schroder and Bill Hatten. He sees as his biggest problem the formation of an effective line since practically all linemen on last year's eleven were lost by graduation and he is having to start from scratch with mostly inexperienced and lightweight players.

South Bay School Ready For Opening

Schools in South Bay and Lake Harbor are scheduled to open on September 4.

South Bay Teachers are: Calvin J. Peacock, principal, Mrs. Edythe Eckman, Mrs. Olga Hardy, Mrs. Leslie Martin, Mrs. Ruth Murphy and one new teacher, Miss Myatt of Maryland.

Lake Harbor teachers are: Mrs. Lucille Williams, principal, Mrs. McNeil of Clewiston and Mrs. Ott of Okeechobee.

Mrs. Ruth Murphy is being graduated with a B. S. degree from Southern College at Lakeland this week and Principal Peacock is taking a special course at the University of Florida. Mrs. Edythe Eckman attended the summer session at the California State Teachers' College in Pennsylvania.

SOIL INFESTING INSECTS

they work at night,
while you sleep!

Just about every grower in the state of Florida is acquainted with extensive damage by mole crickets. Thousands of dollars in losses have been reported in many areas from this infestation. But no longer do planters have to put up with subterranean pests, for chemical research in the great plants of the Velsicol Corporation has brought out a product that is recommended for the control of mole crickets . . . its name is chlordane and its application is simple, rendering immediate results. In fact, there are many reports that in infested fields treated with chlordane, hundreds of dead mole crickets may appear on the surface by the next day.

Chlordane effectively controls not only mole crickets but cut worms, ants, wireworm and many other soil infesting insects. So don't be caught sleeping while mole crickets work. Specify chlordane in your next formulation.

For further details consult your county agent or local dealer for proper recommendations.

Chlordane controls household insects, too.

Morrison Field Is Returned To Army

Palm Beach County's International Airport was officially turned back to the US Air Force Tuesday when the County Commission granted immediate right of entry to the field.

Morris Spooner, Chief of the Real Estate Branch, US Engineers Office, Jacksonville, made the request on behalf of the Air Force.

The 1707th Air Transport Wing, TFW (Transitional Training Unit), Continental Division, Military Air Transport Service, will occupy the field, with an initial cadre of approximately 20 officers and men slated to arrive within two weeks.

Col. Glen R. Richard, Brookley Field, Mobile, will be commanding officers, according to Maj. William H. Hansen, Base Supply Officer, who requested Col. Richard at Tuesday's meeting.

Spooner asked for immediate right of entry on that section of the field not leased by an tenants, and an entry within 30 days on that section which now contains tenants.

In such cases as the county barn, which will not be ready for transfer to its new site for 60 days, Spooner expressed confidence that "this can be worked out favorably when the Air Force officials arrive."

Col. Birchard will meet with the County Board in a few days to discuss such details, Maj. Hansen said.

All tenants, with exception of Palm Beach Aero, will be notified to move, as provided in all the leases, the board said. County Chairman Paul Rardin expressed the board's pleasure "in dealing with all the various Air Force officials and representatives whom we have met since reactivation of the field was first initiated several months ago. We have all enjoyed working with them, and have appreciated the fact that they all are such fine men."

Cinematic Chatter

By Malcolm Millar

Most Hollywood stars live in glass houses, though that may sound like the old figure of speech, meaning their lives are open for all to see, it must be admitted that Hollywood stars have anything but private lives. However the trend is toward the glass, brick, huge picture window home. But many homes have the one story high hedges or the high brick or cement walls, so Mr. Curiosity can't stare into their yards while the ladies are sunbathing. You know, in Hollywood the sight seeing busses take you around the neighborhoods where the stars dwell and they point out these homes and tell the names of the residents. The big names in the film capitol have moved from Los Angeles and Hollywood into the "country" and have erected gorgeous ranch style homes on large acreages. Here they built their homes far back from the main road and Mr. Curiosity finds he cannot stare at the occupants, while they are pursuing their normal way of living. I wonder why the curiosity about these folks, who, after all, are only "people"? They live the same lives as you and I... expect they may have servants, where we have none, and they may own three cars where we are continually dodging the finance man to hang on to the one broken down hack we are able to drive. They duck into the kitchen at night, raid the ice box, make crude sandwiches out of the scraps at hand, garnished by slab of onions and sit with their feet on the kitchen stove while they enjoy this dainty morsel and a bottle of Coke.

Yes, Hollywood stars are just as normal and natural as other people. They have the same joys, sorrows, financial worries, the same sickness and the same likes and dislikes as we. The strange thing about it all is they want to get acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public as much as Mr. and Mrs. John Q. wants to meet them, for Mr. John public is just as much a Curiosity to them as the movie star is to us... See you at the movies—Mal.

Belle Glade Talent Shows In Pahokee

Malcolm Millar, Director of Talent Scout shows, presented five acts of the cream of Belle Glade talent at the Prince Theatre, Tuesday night, before a packed house.

Twigg Phillips and Bill Lance led off with guitars and voices blended in mountain singing that received a swell hand of approval from the audience. They were forced to a third encore and gave out with "Listen to the Mocking Bird," delighting their audience.

Esther Walker, with flashing dark eyes and a grand personality, offered a short chorus of "Moonlight Bay" and encoored with "No Can Do". Esther walked away with appreciative applause ringing in her ears.

Glenda Dell, twelve-year-old, at the piano, held down third spot and brought the house down with a medley of tunes. Her encore "Bumble Bogley" brought a storm of applause from the crowd, which forced another encore.

Evelyn Haven in the next to closing spot stopped the show with her "Loveliest Night, in the Year" and had to oblige with "Too Young." Her charm, beauty and lovely voice captivated her audience from the start of her act.

Reeser and Howell closed the show with one of the most novel acts ever presented in this community. There was an impersonation of a famous radio program which originates in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Their stint of selling "harmonizers" was a hilarious bit in their act and garnered laugh after laugh from the crowd. The rendition of "The Fox Chase" was the show stopper and the boys "came off the air" with a mighty wave of applause following them.

Mr. Millar thanked the audience for their support of Talent shows during the eight weeks they have been presented and paid a nice tribute to the merchants of Pahokee in voicing the gratitude of the talent for their fine contributions which were awarded to the Grand winners on the finals.

Christian Science Group Of Canal Point

The well loved story of the life and work of the Master Christian will be the topic of the services in all Christian Science churches next Sunday. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "CHRIST JESUS."
 A verse from John provides the Golden Text: "The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do" (John 5: 19).
 That Jesus was conscious, at the age of twelve years, of his mission is clearly shown in the following verse which is among those in the Lesson: "And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?" (Luke 2: 49).

Our obligation as followers of Christ Jesus is made evident in this passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "We must go and do likewise, else we are not improving the great blessings which our Master worked and suffered to bestow upon us" (p. 25: 28-31).

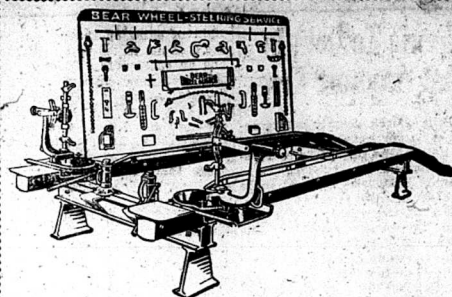

Dennis Wilson, who is attending Rochester Institute of Technology, spend the first four days of the week in Canal Point with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Wilson. Max Wilson, who is stationed at Jacksonville, spent the week end with his parents and brought two friends, R. L. Swick and Carl Nichols, with him.

Former Pastor Of Pahokee Is Drowned

Rev. Harold Edward Elzey, 24, former pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, Pahokee, died by drowning in an artificial lake in Jacksonville Tuesday, Aug. 21.

Rev. Elzey, a graduate of Travecca College, Nashville, Tenn., left Pahokee six weeks ago to head the Southside Church of the Nazarene in Jacksonville.

It is reported he was on an outing with members of his church and had been swimming with an inner tube about 45 feet from shore when he apparently decided to swim to shore without the tube and after a few strokes called out for help and went under while his wife and several members of his congregation watched. Divers attempting to find him immediately were unsuccessful. Police were summoned and the body was recovered two hours later.
